a marvellous banquet with four leaders whose lives provide lessons for all pull up a chair warren buffett it is a safe bet that leadership will soon sit on the nightstand of every chief executive officer in the land and will be avidly read by the legion of ambitious young people who want their jobs. Niall Ferguson Sunday Times In this culmination of five decades of work Doris Kearns Goodwin offers an illuminating exploration of the origin, growth and exercise of leadership through the lives of four US presidents. Are leaders born or made? How does adversity affect the growth of leadership? Does the man make the times or do the times make the man? In leadership, acclaimed historian Doris Kearns Goodwin looks at four presidents: Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Lyndon B. Johnson to show how they first recognized leadership qualities within themselves and were recognized as leaders by others. By looking at their entry into public life and how they confronted the dilemmas of their times, we can follow their development into leaders of their time. These stories of leadership in fractured times take on a singular urgency in today's polarized world and provide a much needed roadmap for aspiring and established leaders. Colourful, fun and illuminating. A master storyteller. Daniel Finkelstein, The Times

The #1 New York Times bestseller from America's historian in chief. New York Magazine: An unfinished love story, a personal history of the 1960s. By Doris Kearns Goodwin. One of America's most beloved historians artfully weaves together biography, memoir and history. She takes you along on the emotional journey she and her husband Richard Dick Goodwin embarked upon in the last years of his life. Dick and Doris Goodwin were married for forty-two years and married to American history even longer. In his twenties, Dick was one of the brilliant young men of John F. Kennedy's New Frontier. In his thirties, he both named and helped design Lyndon Johnson's Great Society and was a speechwriter and close advisor to Robert Kennedy. Doris Kearns was a twenty-four-year-old graduate student when selected as a White House fellow. She worked directly for Lyndon Johnson and later assisted on his memoir. Over the years, with humor, anger, frustration and in the end, a growing understanding, Dick and Doris had argued over the achievements and failings of the leaders they served and observed, debating the progress and unfinished promises of the country. They both loved the Goodwins' last great adventure: finally opening the more than three hundred boxes of letters, diaries, documents and memorabilia that Dick had saved for more than fifty years. They soon realized they had before them an unparalleled personal time capsule of the 1960s, illuminating public and private moments of a decade when individuals were powered by the conviction they could make a difference. A time like today, marked by struggles for racial and economic justice, a time when lines were drawn and loyalties tested. Their expedition gave Dick's last years renewed purpose and determination. It gave Doris the opportunity to connect and reconnect with participants and witnesses of pivotal moments of the 1960s and it gave them both an opportunity to make fresh assessments of the central figures of the time: John F. Kennedy, Jacqueline Kennedy, Martin Luther King Jr., Robert Kennedy, Eugene McCarthy and especially Lyndon Johnson, who greatly impacted both their lives. The voyage of remembrance brought unexpected discoveries, forgiveness and the renewal of old dreams, reviving the hope that the youth of today will carry forward this unfinished love story with America.
